Iron County Shooting Range
From Main Street and 200 North in Cedar City, Utah, drive west on 200 North (Highway 56). After 5.3 miles, turn right on Iron Springs Road. After another 5.4 miles, turn right on a dirt road. After another 2.0 miles, you will see the shooting range on your left. We usually shoot at the small-bore/pistol area which is the first area with a U-shaped berm.

Delta Air Lines Firearm Policy

(As of 13 May 2011. Taken from www.delta.com. Subject to change. Always check with your airline before traveling.)

Pistols

You can bring pistols and accessories as checked baggage as long as they are included in one pistol case and contain:

- No more than five pistols
- Pistol telescopes
- Noise suppressers
- A small pistol tool case
- No more than 11 lbs. (5 kg) of ammunition

An excess baggage fee will apply to cases containing more than five pistols.

Rifles and Shotguns

Delta will accept firearms and shooting equipment packaged as follows:

- One gun case containing up to a total of four rifles or shotguns, plus shooting materials, and tools
- One gun case containing up to five handguns, one scope, and tools
- One bow and quiver of arrows and maintenance kit enclosed in a case or container of sufficient strength to protect the bow and quiver from accidental damage

One gun case may contain up to four rifles or shotguns and will be counted as one bag. An excess baggage fee will apply if checking more than one gun case. You can check up to two shotguns and two shotgun cases. Ammunition is limited to 11 lbs. (5 kg).

Shooting equipment

Shooting equipment is accepted as checked baggage only. It must fit within the very specific criteria that we outline below.

- Declare to the Delta representative that you are checking a firearm.
- Declare the existence of a firearm to security personnel if a security checkpoint is prior to the Delta counter.
- All firearms must be declared by the passenger to a Delta representative at the main ticket counter .
- Present firearm(s) unloaded and sign a "Firearms Unloaded" declaration.
- Firearms must be packed in a locked manufacturer's hard-sided container specifically designed for the firearm, a locked hard-sided gun case, or a locked hard-sided piece of luggage. Handguns may be packed in a locked hard-sided gun case, and then packed inside an unlocked soft-sided piece of luggage. However, a Conditional Acceptance Tag must be used in this case.
- Maintain entry permits in your possession for the country or countries of destination or transit.
- Ensure small arms ammunition is packed in the manufacturer's original package or securely packed in fiber, wood, plastic or metal boxes and provide separation for cartridges.

If you need to travel with a weapon as checked baggage, you are responsible for knowledge of and compliance with all Federal, State, or Local laws regarding the possession and transportation of firearms. TSA locks are not approved for securing firearms. For more information about this regulation you can visit the TSA site.

If you are transporting a firearm to the United Kingdom as checked baggage, a permit from the United Kingdom is specifically required. You must contact the United Kingdom for more information about securing this permit.

Ammunition in excess of 11 lbs. per passenger or that contains potential projectiles is not allowed.

TSA: Traveling with Special Items

(As of 19 Feb 2013. Taken from www.tsa.gov/traveler-information/traveling-special-items. Subject to change. Always check with TSA before traveling.)

Firearms & Ammunition

You may only transport firearms, ammunition and firearm parts in your checked baggage. Firearms, ammunition and firearm parts are prohibited from carry-on baggage.

Failure to adhere to the following regulations will preclude passengers from traveling with firearms, ammunitions or firearm parts:

- Travelers must declare all firearms, ammunition, and parts to the airline during the ticket counter check-in process.
- The firearm must be unloaded.
- The firearm must be in a hard-sided container.
- The container must be locked. A locked container is defined as one that completely secures the firearm from being accessed. Cases that can be pulled open with little effort cannot be brought aboard the aircraft. Federal regulations prohibit unlocked gun cases (or cases with broken locks) on aircraft.
- TSA inspects all firearm cases at the ticket counter. Travelers should remain in the area designated by the aircraft operator or TSA representative to take the key back after the container is cleared for transportation. If travelers are not present and the security officer must open the container, TSA or the airline will make a reasonable attempt to contact the owner. If contact is not made, the container will not be placed on the aircraft.
- Travelers must securely pack any ammunition in fiber (such as cardboard), wood or metal boxes or other packaging that is specifically designed to carry small amounts of ammunition.
- Travelers may not use firearm magazines/clips for packing ammunition unless they completely and securely enclose the ammunition (e.g., by securely covering the exposed portions of the magazine or by securely placing the magazine in a pouch, holder, holster or lanyard).
- Ammunition may be carried in the same hard-sided case as the firearm, as long as it follows packing guidelines described above.
- TSA prohibits black powder or percussion caps used with black-powder.

These regulations are strictly enforced. Violations can result in criminal prosecution and civil penalties of up to $10,000 per violation.

Airlines may have additional requirements for traveling with firearms and ammunition. Therefore, travelers should also contact the airline regarding firearm and ammunition carriage policies.

Also, please note that other countries have different laws that address transportation and possession of firearms. If you are traveling internationally, please check regulations at your destination about their requirements.

There are certain limited exceptions for law enforcement officers who may fly armed by meeting the requirements of Title 49 CFR § 1544.219 (<http://www.law.cornell.edu/cfr/text/49/1544.219>). Law enforcement officers should read our policies on traveling with guns (<http://www.tsa.gov/about-tsa/law-enforcement-officers-flying-armed>).
